Through an open and transparent competition, 88 advanced fighters will be purchased to replace the CF-18 fleet.

The competition is underway. The full list of eligible suppliers has been published.

These jets will help us meet our NORAD and NATO obligations simultaneously.

CANADA'S DEFENCE POLICY

Last week, Minister Sajjan launched IDEaS - to seek innovative solutions to complex defence and security challenges.

IDEaS can look beyond the traditional defence community and scientists, to all Canadians, to find the solutions we need to support, equip and train our service members.

CANADA'S DEFENCE POLICY

Our Government will invest $1.6 billion dollars into IDEaS over the next 20 years. This is funding that will go towards flexible new procurement methods , allowing us to develop and test ideas, and to follow through on the most promising ones.

Working with our aerospace partners is key to ensuring that Canada remains Strong at Home, Secure in North America, and Engaged in the World.
